Vol 76 No. 11 Wednesday, March 13, 1968

AFTER A TWO-MONTH respite from covering the "action" at the city hall because of "our operation", we had almost forgotten how lengthy and confused planning commission or city council meetings can be.

That is, until we hit our first planning commission meeting of 1968 last week. Our memory was refreshed speedily.

Because we are still recuperating to a degree, we only held out at the commission meeting for three-and-one-half hours, leaving the deliberations by 11:30 p.m.

And only two major items had been taken care of by that time. The commission actually did not adjourn until after 1 a.m.

It was quite an auspicious start for a guy who, for the first few weeks of the year, just had to read about such sessions, generally from a prone position.

That was much less tiring, we assure you.

We hope such meetings don't become a habit.

BUT WE DOUBT if there can be many such sessions like that marathon one held by the Planning Commission the other night.

Otherwise everyone could have a relapse. With or without having an operation first.

We suppose when four planning commissioners completely reverse their thinking on zoning in the space of two months, it could be said that this shows "bigness" on their part.

In other words, their willingness to publicly admit they had made a mistake the first time.

But there is a problem with that sort of reasoning.

It seems to us, that it is necessary to first submit conclusive evidence why the first time around was wrong and thus the turn-about was warranted.

But, if no new evidence is submitted, it all becomes complicated and confused...And a wee bit scary.

In other words, flexibility may have its points. But a stand has to be made some place and some time.

Otherwise this "changing of mind" could go on indefinitely.

And our big point is that, if a planning commission, which is a city's planning advisory body, decides unanimously that a certain property should be of a certain zone, it should be assumed that this is the way to go zoningwise.

But then, if two months later, four members of the Planning Commission reverse themselves, it does make it a bit confusing.

At least, we are confused.

Maybe we have been away too long.

But if it was good zoning two months ago, why isn't it good zoning now?

FOR THOSE WHO tuned in late, we are referring to the zone change request that was submitted by Lowell Grattan for property off W. Latimer and Llewellyn and adjacent to the San Tomas Expressway.

Lowell asked that the zone be changed from R-1 (single-family) to R-2-S (multiple).

Six members of the Planning Commission (Kel Young was absent) unanimously approved the zone change request and sent it on to the City Council.

At the Council level, a petition was presented containing 275 signatures of residents in the area in opposition to the zone-change.

And a number of residents were in the audience to sound off against it.

The Council got off the hook (temporarily) and sent the hot potato back to the Commission.

MANY OF THE PROTESTing residents were in attendance the second time around at the Planning Commission and orally presented their objections.

Nothing much new was pre-

City goes to bat for overpass

One of the most crucial steps in the long, drawn out struggle to get a pedestrian overpass at Rincon Ave. and the expressway will be taken on Wednesday, March 20, at the County Transportation Policy Committee meeting.

At the meeting which will be held in the county welfare building at 7:30 p.m., Vice-Mayor Bill Smeed, this city's representative on the committee, will spearhead the drive to get approval of the full committee to finance 50% of the cost (approximately $50,000) of the overpass.

If the committee approves the financing and the supervisors subsequently endorse this action, the City of Camp bell will pick up the tab for 25% of the cost or $25,000. Funds for the project were included in the bond issue last fall.

The Campbell Union (elementary) School District and the City of San Jose are expected to equally share in the balance of the cost at $12,500 each.

Although Vice-Mayor Smeed is expected to carry the ball at the committee meeting, representatives of local citizen groups as well as the school district and the City of San Jose have been urged to attend and may be called upon to bolster Smeed's case.

City Manager Bob Stephens, Neal Royer, Campbell school superintendent and Bill Parton, former school board president, recently appeared before the technical sub-committee of the County Transportation Policy Committee, to push for the overpass.

City officials are hopeful that the technical group will make a favorable recommendation to the committee on March 20.

Action to get the Rincon Ave. pedestrian overpass started when Rincon Ave. was closed off and the San Tomas Expressway constructed.

The overpass will allow better access to the proposed Rincon Park, now undeveloped, as well as giving school children better protection in the crossing of the heavily-

Hamilton Ave. gets blue star memorial

A Blue Star Memorial Plaque honoring servicemen of the nation was dedicated last Thursday morning in ceremonies at Hamilton Ave. near Winchester.

Hamilton Avenue was chosen as an appropriate project for the Blue Star Memorial by the National Council of California Garden Clubs. The marker was placed at the first median strip on West Hamilton Ave. where the Campbell Garden Club, in collaboration with the City of Campbell, planted the strips with eucalyptus trees, shrubs and ground cover, making the highway divider an attractive boulevard.

Music for the ceremonies was provided by the Campbell High School marching band, and the welcome was given by Mrs. John Jackson, president of the Campbell Garden Club. Mrs. James Hartman, chairman of the civic beautification committee for the garden club made the opening remarks.

Mrs. Milton R. Bell, representing California Garden Clubs, Inc. told the history of the Blue Star Memorial and unveiled the marker. She made the presentation to the city. Mayor Edward J. Rogers accepted the plaque for the citizens of Campbell.

Maj. Donald E. Keller, officer in charge, Marine Air Reserve Training, San Jose, acknowledged the plaque for the Armed Forces. Flower sprays were laid on the marker in memory of servicemen by Mary and Kristine Jackson. Rev. Leeds Gulick, the Congregational Church of Campbell, gave the benediction.

There was a large crowd attending the dedication.

Council splits on zone change

In one of the most complicated, confused and strange zoning maneuvers in the history of this city, three councilmen on Monday night agreed with the original zone-change recommendation of the Planning Commission made in January.

They approved low-density multiples for property located on W. Latimer adjacent to San Tomas Expressway.

Before the vote, the three councilmen, Homer Hyde, Ralph Doetsch and Bill Smeed, emphasized that they were confident that the Planning Commission, through site and controls, could offer ample protection to adjoining single-family residential property owners.

They also stressed that the concerned property owners would be notified whenever the Planning Commission considered any proposed development for the area.

Although the three councilmen followed the original zone-change recommendation of the Planning Commission, the two councilmen who voted to deny the zone change request, Mayor Ed Rogers, and Charlie Rose, also followed a Planning Commission recommendation!

Actually there were two recommendations from the Planning Commission, one for the zone change and one against.

In January the commission unanimously approved the zone change.

But last week, when the matter was referred back to the commission, four commissioners, Dean Chamberlin Merrill Grim, Ed Pack and Frank Klein, changed their votes. Thus by a 4-3 vote (Thayer Lyons, Kel Young and Jack Healey stood firm) the new recommendation was forwarded to the City Council.

So the Council had its choice.

The action Monday night dropped the curtain on this bizarre zoning drama which despite its strangeness was ruled perfectly legal by City Attorney Joe Bonacina who admitted it was complicated but that he had researched it diligently.

Councilman Smeed, also an attorney, took exception to Bonacina's interpretation.

The hearing Monday night was closed, although a number of interested residents from Llewelyn Ave., the area adjacent to the property in question, were in the audience. The residents previously had presented a petition with 275 names opposing the zone change. Their opposition stressed the point that plans for the development were indefinite. They wanted to see what was planned for the area.

Lowell Grattan, who requested the zone change, reiterated time and again that he could not present any exact plans because he was not sure just how it was to be developed at this time. The zone-change was the first necessary step, he stressed.

Because of the city election coming up and the protests of the residents, there have been a number of political overtones during the time the sticky matter was being considered by both the council and commission.

Three councilmen, Rogers, Rose and Smeed are seeking reelection, Chamberlin, from the planning commission, is also in the council race.

Councilman Hyde took issue with both Rogers and Rose during the discussion Monday night. Hyde, who served for

Storm drain job gets city okay

Campbell Ave. from Second St. to Los Gatos Creek for the next three months is expected to be the scene of bustling activity, frustration, traffic congestion and temper flare-ups as a result of the City Council on action Monday night awarding the long-awaited storm drain contract for the street. But the action was inevitable and long-needed and expected.

The contract was awarded to Pisano Bros., for $147,524.40, low bidder of the nine contractors that sought the job. In contrast to last November when the Council rejected all bids because they exceeded the engineer's estimate by almost 30%, the low bid this time was below the engineer's projection of $149,109.

The bids ranged from the low of $147,524 to a high of $207,127. The next bid to Pisano Bros., was $151,334.

The Council, Bill Wren, public works director, and City Manager Bob Stephens, indicated they were pleased with the bidding and emphasized that although the contract was $24,000 above the low bid last time, the project this time was far more extensive.

According to Wren, the project will extend down First St. to Rincon to allow the drainage of the large area toward St. Lucy's Church.

In addition to going down Campbell Ave. toward Los Gatos Creek, a feeder line will go up Harrison to Grant and over to Third.

Verdun Romer will be principal of new Prospect High School

Verdum Romer, principal of Blackford High School since its opening in 1961, has been named the first principal of the new Prospect High School, slated to open next September. The appointment was made by Laurance J. Hill, superintendent of the Campbell High School District.

Romer came to the Campbell district in 1954 as a teacher. He has also served as freshman counselor at Campbell. In addition to his administrative duties at Blackford, Romer is supervisor of the Cadet Corps for the district.

Romer is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley. His wife is a nurse for the Cambrian School District. They have three children, including a son in the service, a daughter attending San Jose State College and a boy in junior high school. The family resides at 18800 Kosich Dr., Saratoga.

SUCCESSOR

Romer's successor at Blackford will be Harold Sontag, presently serving as director of education at Leigh High School.

Sontag has served as supervisor of physical education for the Campbell High School District and he was dean of boys at Westmont High School. He came to the district in 1964. He had formerly been associated with the Santa Clara County District as supervisor of physical education. He is a graduate of San Jose State College. Sontag resides in Los Gatos with his wife and two children.

LAST SCHOOL

Prospect High School is the eighth school in the Campbell District, and according to the district office, no more new high schools are anticipated in the district. Future expansion will be limited to the present campuses.

An enrollment of 1500 students is expected at Prospect in the fall.

Campbell High presents "Flower Drum Song"

San Francisco's Chinatown is the setting for Campbell High School's musical production of "Flower Drum Song" to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings, March 14 - 15 and next March 21-22 at 8 p.m in the auditorium.

Rehearsals have been held every afternoon and several evenings a week with the Campbell High School orchestra. Musical direction for "Flower Drum Song" is conducted by Lawrence McCommas and the choreography is led by Mrs. Mary Ann Andres.

Directed by John Hall, drama instructor, assisted by Robert Williams, the plot revolves around a picture bride who is bought by Sammy Fong, several years earlier. Sammy Fong now has a girl friend, Linda Low, and therefore, does not want to marry his picture bride and tries to sell her to the Ta family.

Leading parts will be portrayed by George Akina as Sammy Fong, a junior at Campbell High. He has performed in other high school productions such as "The Boyfriend" and "The King and I."

Fran Acken, a senior at Campbell, portrays the part of Mei Li, the picture bride. Fran has acted in several aothe Campbell High School pro-

Council questions

On Tuesday, April 9, the citizens of Campbell will elect three members of the City Council.

There are six candidates for the three positions; three incumbents, Ed Rogers, Bill Smeed and Charles Rose and three challengers, Dean Chamberlin, Bob Dalzell and Henry Batis.

Political technicians maintain that incumbents generally have the advantage in elections because the voters are already aware of how the incumbents stand on certain issues based on their voting record.

Of course, this does not always hold true, if the incumbents have been divided in their voting. Incumbency sometimes can also work a disadvantage, if for example, the incumbents have espoused unpopular causes, i.e., in the opinion of some of the voters.

The Campbell Press feels that the voters in our city should be aware of how all candidates, not just the incumbents, stand on basic issues that will confront the councilmen now or in the forseeable future.

For that reason, The Press has attempted to develop some specific, as well as general, questions that possibly can provide some help in this matter.

With the cooperation of the candidates, we hope to present these questions to the candidates and publish their answers before the April 9 election.

Trying to find questions that can be answered briefly yet cover the problems that face the city is a difficult task, we have discovered.

If the questions are too general, there is the danger that the candidates will expound and expand at too great a length.

On the other hand, it is difficult to be so specific that a "yes" or "no" answer is all that is required. We have found that many problems on the local level are not always just plain black and white. Many are quite grey.

Admittedly the records will not allow what is known as a modified "yes" or "no", but the fact remains that on many occasions a "modification" would be helpful.

As we said we have been exploring the fields and have more or less come up with some essential points to be covered in the questions.

With your indulgence, we would like you to try them on for size. (You could pretend that you were a council candidate).

So here goes:

QUESTIONS FOR 1968 COUNCIL CANDIDATES

1. What experience and training do you have to qualify you for this office?
2. If elected what do you feel would be your major responsibility to the community?
3. What do you think are the three major problems facing Campbell today?
4. What improvements do you think should be made in city services and how should they be financed?
5. Do you favor the development of the downtown core on Campbell Ave. following the modified "mall" plan with the so-called north-south loop system?
6. Should Campbell attempt to maintain a low density residential pattern, or should more intensive use of remaining open lands be encouraged?
7. Should specific areas be reserved for single-family development?
8. Should high density be permitted in all sections of Campbell and what type of residential zoning should there be adjacent to expressways or freeways?
9. Do you favor a more active promotion in the development of controlled industrial areas within the city limits?
10. How should the city expand its cultural and recreational facilities within its present budgetary limitations or should a tax be levied to develop such projects?
11. Should Campbell encourage maximum commercial development inclusive of new strip commercial, shopping centers, isolated stores and service commercial operations?

We must caution you that questions listed here may be modified before submitting them to the council candidates.

We also realize that some of the questions could be classified as "loaded".

We are also aware that there are many areas of interest not touched by the listed questions.

It is a sincere attempt, however, on our part to sort of even things a wee bit between the incumbents and challengers.

In other words, in a number of instances, the incumbents have by their voting records already answered some of the questions.

The questions thus will give the challengers a chance to stand and be counted also.

sented at the second Planning Commission meeting except that the residents voiced what the commissioners had brought up the first time.

The main point was that the zone change gave Grattan a blank check to develop it. (They wanted something more definite in the way of plans for the development than Grattan could furnish).

It thus brought up a complex point...

Conditions cannot be attached to zone changes. Or is it necessary to have development plans...unless it is the special PD (planned development) zone.

The good book of the city specifies what can go in a particular zone. And that's it.

-0-

DON'T GET US WRONG.. We don't know what is the proper zoning for Lowell Grattan's property.

We have been away too long.

We do know that it has become sort of "policy" that multiples go along expressways.

But we think it is great that so many local residents took such an active interest in their community. We hope this interest will continue in other civic matters. We have plenty to go around.

But what we are curious about is this "flexibility" in the thinking of four planning commissioners, Frank Klein, Dean Chamberlin, Merrill Grim and Ed Pack.

It was an interesting paradox.

Three commissioners, Thayer Lyons, Jack Healey and Kel Young, felt that what was good zoning two months ago should be good zoning today as nothing new in evidence had been presented.

But four of their associates apparently thought otherwise.

LAST ISSUE, SOME OF you might recall, we touched on the subject of "Campbell, the orchard city"....

"Orchard city" was tacked onto the official name of the City of Campbell when this community was incorporated in 1952.

At that time, it was quite appropriate. But today the name does not describe the community, for the orchards have almost all virtually disappeared.

That was brought to mind especially, of course, when in the space of a couple of days, the 34-acre Brynteson Ranch at Campbell Ave. and Bascom was denuded of all its trees.

One of our alert readers, however, called attention to a rather interesting fact that helps keep the "orchard city" bit going.

It was pointed out that Councilman Ralph Doetsch, who served as mayor last year, and has been on the council six years, officially lists his occupation as an "orchardist".

He also works at it and is probably the only councilman in the county who actually farms within his own city limits.

Anyway our reader thought that Ralph's activities in the orchards should be noted for posterity and that "orchard city" still has a meaning in some places.

So noted.

Famed ranch takes spotlight

A heavy agenda faces the Planning Commission next Monday night, March 18, with the request for a use permit for Fred Sahadi to allow a service station at S. Bascom and Campbell Ave. expected to be one of the highlights of the evening.

The proposed service station is on the southeasterly corner of the 43-acre former Brynteson Ranch recently acquired by Sahadi.

Two weeks ago all the trees on the ranch were removed. No announcement has been made as what is planned on the balance of the property.

Requests for approval of plans for five 4-unit apartments on Nello and Echo submitted by Ran Kanawyer and for a 10-unit apartment at 155 Hollis submitted by John G. Carter will also be considered by the Planning Commission.

WINTER FOOD

During the winter when food is scarce, a pine martin will travel fifteen miles in a day in search of food.

THE SAFE WAY--Jack Josse', meat department manager for Campbell Plaza Safeway offers a "doggy bag" to Bonny, a Welsh Corgi. Josse says that an animal loving Safeway official, recognizing how much restaurant patrons appreciated the scrap bags for their pets, initiated their use in the Safeway markets.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN--Mrs. Jeanette Watson, 91 Catalpa Lane, has accepted the chairmanship of the citizens committee formed to re-elect City Councilman Bill Smeed on April 9.

A native of Campbell, Mrs. Watson, the mother of three children, is the daughter of Mrs. Jennie Gomes and the late Joseph Gomes, long-time high school board member and member of Campbell's first City Council.

Mrs. Watson, whose husband, Courtland is an electrical engineer with Lockheed, is a graduate of Campbell High and San Jose State. She is a former president of the Hamilton PTA and Country Woman's Club.

She is also active in St. Lucy Catholic Church activities.

Mrs. Watson served as co-chairman of the "Citizens for Progress" last year which spearheaded the successful passage of the $2,600,000 civic improvement bond issue on Oct. 24.

The City of San Jose got into the act because a small section of territory near the area lies within the city limits of San Jose. This was a result of the infamous "Cherry Lane Annexation" of some years ago that cut into Campbell from the west side when the property was uninhabited.

Now that the area is developed, residents find themselves in the unique position of "being Campbell" but within the San Jose city limits.

San Jose officials, it is understood, have informally agreed to participate in the underwriting of the overpass which is expected to cost approximately $100,000.

Girl Scouts observe anniversary

JUNIOR GIRL SCOUTS--Troop 211, Hazelwood School, learn of the wonders of the out-of-doors with the Park Ranger at Mt. Madonna.

The 56th anniversary of Girl Scouts in the United States is being observed in Campbell this week.

Mayor Edward J. Rogers has signed a proclamation naming the week of March 10-16 as Girl Scout Week, recognizing the progress and many accomplishments of the Girl Scouts.

There are now 59 active troops in the Campbell area involving 1,376 girls. They range from Brownies through Cadettes.

The original troop of Girl Scouts organized by Juliette Low consisted of 18 girls. Now there are more than three million Girl Scouts in the nation. In Santa Clara County alone, there are 17,800 girls and 600,000 adult volunteers.

On Sunday, March 10, many local Girl Scouts attended church together as a group, in observance of their organizations birthday.

Conservationist addresses local garden club

"Concepts of Conservation" will be discussed by an eminent authority on the subject, Mrs. Helen Christensen, a veteran of 31 years with the United States Forestry Service, when she addresses the Campbell Garden Club at its meeting, today, March 13.

Mrs. John Jackson is president of the group which meets in the Fireside Room at Campbell Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave., every second Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Prior to the business meeting, a pot-luck luncheon was served at noon. This annual event re-unites former active members as well as honorary members.

Campbell Garden Club has shown a concern for conservation since it was incorporated in 1946, and has recently promoted the successful appeal to have the city declared a bird sanctuary.

Mrs. Christensen has used her background of business administration, conservation and education in college to handle the responsibilities as U.S. Forest Supervisor for Montana and Idaho, two of the more important states where forests are concerned. Public Relations duties at Ogden, Utah, and in the nation's capital, also played a part in her experience.

Campbell City Employees held their annual dinner dance "Spring Fling" at the Los Gatos Elks club last Saturday night which, from all reports, was a huge success...

ADA REBEKAHS of Campbell are anticipating their next general meeting on April 2, when they will meet for the first time in their new ODD FELLOWS TEMPLE in downtown Campbell....

Campbell 4-H entertain Dads

It was "Fathers Night" at the February meeting of Campbell 4-H club. A skit was performed by Mark Valverde, Tina Valverde, Brenda Pathman and Kathleen Clancy.

There also was a skit advertising the family pot-luck dinner. Performers were Marie and Cecilia Brown.

Mrs. Sandra Watts' clothing group gave a demonstration on planning a wardrobe. There were also reports from each project group on their activities.

Special guest was Miss Marlene Perrien from Jefferson 4-H Club, who gave a report and showed slides of her trip to Chicago.

As a county and state winner in the National Awards program, Marlene earned the honor to be a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress.

Flower show at St. Lucy's

The Blossom Valley "Bloomers" and "Bloomettes" are holding their first all Jr. standard flower show to be held at St. Lucy's Church annex on 2350 Winchester Blvd. in Campbell on Saturday, March 23 from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The show is open to all district Junior Garden Clubs.

This show is sponsored by the Blossom Valley Garden Club and is free to the public. For more information, please call Mrs. Zeno Hallett at 377-3480.

Club meeting

"It's For the Birds" will be the theme when the Blossom Valley Garden Club meets for their regular monthly meeting, March 20 at 1 p.m. at St. Edwards' Episcopal church at the corner of Branham and Union Avenues.

Mrs. Clarendon Wilkenson will be the speaker on the life of the audubon. There will be a bake exchange. Mrs. Sherman Lombard and Mrs. Norman Lundstrom are the cohostesses.

FIGHT CANCER with a CHECK-UP

Q. - Are many cancers being cured?
A. - Cancer can be cured and is being cured every day by surgery and/or radiation. More than 1,200,000 Americans are alive today who once had cancer and are cured, providing living proof of the effectiveness of early detection and proper medical treatment.
Q. - How should cancer be treated?
A. - It should be treated by competent physicians. Surgery and/or radiation are necessary to obtain cures. Radiation is produced by x-ray machines, radium, radioactive materials, the cobalt60 unit, the betatron and others. Hormones and chemical agents may also be used in treating some types of cancer. Hormones and drugs themselves do not cure cancer, but they are often effective aids to surgery and radiation in relieving pain and prolonging life, sometimes for very long periods.
Cancer should never be treated with so-called "home remedies" or "secret cures."
Q. - Can cancer be diagnosed and treated effectively in every hospital?
A. - No, not in every hospital. For the proper management of cancer, the hospital must have an operating room, access to a laboratory for microscopic diagnosis of tissue, and x-ray equipment suitable for diagnosis for treatment. It must be staffed by physicians adequately trained to make effective use of these facilities. Physicians know which hospitals qualify in these respects.
Q. - Are x-ray treatments effective against all kinds of cancer?
A. No. Treatment results depend on the type and location of a growth. Some cancers are treated with x-rays or radium and some by surgery, and others with both x-ray and surgery.
Q. - What is a radioactive isotope?
A. - An isotope is a chemical "brother" of any particular element, such as cobalt, iron, iodine, carbon, gold, etc. A radioactive isotope is one that gives off rays of energy like x-rays, some of which are able to destroy cancer cells.
Q. - Can radioactive isotopes cure cancer?
A. Yes, but only when used locally like x-rays, as in the cobalt60 unit.
Q. - Can hormones cure cancer?
A. - No, but treatment with certain hormones may prolong life and lessen pain in some patients, such as those with advanced breast cancer or prostate cancer.
Q. What is a hormone?
A. - A chemical substance produced by glands which affects activities of other organs. Some hormones can also be manufactured artificially.
Q. - Is progress being made in controlling pain caused by some advanced cancers?
A. - Yes. Powerful radiation techniques, radio-active isotopes, certain surgical procedures, new sedatives and pain-killing drugs, and selected hormones can keep pain under control in many patients.

County water districts merger marks end of era began in 1929

On March 7, the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District merged with the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District. This merger marked the passing from the valley scene of this special district which began its work in November of 1929.

During the past 38 years, under the leadership of Leroy Anderson, Fred Tibbetts, Walter Hunt, Robert Roll and Glenn Dodson, the District has been responsible for the construction and operation of Anderson, Coyote, Almaden, Calero, Guadalupe, Lexington, Vasona and Stevens Creek Dams.

The District has also developed and operated 365 acres of offstream percolation facilities plus canals and pipelines and utilizes annually many miles of stream channels to increase the transmission of water to the underground basin.

It is estimated that prior to the beginning of the District's operation, two-thirds of all the natural runoff in Santa Clara Valley went to the bay. Through the utilization of the 157,340 acre-feet of storage capacity and the percolation facilities, the amount of water saved has been doubled.

The Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District has also provided thousands of acres of agricultural land with irrigation water during the summer months so that the draft on the ground water basin could be minimized.

Presently, the District is percolating about 40,000 acre-feet annually of South Bay Aqueduct water brought in by Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District.

The Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District is recognized as one of the leaders in the field of ground water recharge and is renowned for its excellent programs in cloud seeding and sedimentation (the salvaging of turbid storm water for recharge). The activities of the District have been beneficial in reducing the rate of subsidence in certain parts of the valley as well as maintaining the ground water table, both of which have been important factors in the rate of economic growth in North Santa Clara County.

This work will be carried on with the functions of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District under the directorship of the newly appointed board. In the future, the Administrative office may be reached by phoning 299-2031; Right of Way, Planning and Engineering at 299-3841; the Surface Water and Ground Water Sections, Maintenance and Basic Data Sections at 269-3650.

MARIGOLD

The marigold was named for the Virgin Mary and the color of gold.

Local hospital expands pathology dept.

Due to continually increasing need, a marked expansion of the Department of Surgical Pathology has been accomplished by Campbell Community Hospital.

The expanded department is now headed by William J. Siegel, M.D., 19150 Gardner Lane, Saratoga resident. The Surgical Pathology laboratory has been equipped with the latest devices for tissue processing, and the entire department is part of the current increase in laboratory services now provided at the hospital.

Dr. Siegel said that the laboratory staff and working space has tripled and a large number of new techniques and procedures have been introduced.

Dr. Siegel is a native New Yorker who became interested in the Santa Clara Valley area while serving as a naval flight surgeon at Moffett Field.

He was a resident in Internal Medicine and Pathology at the Santa Clara Valley Medical Center, and is currently teaching there in Clinical Pathology and Cytology.

The new chief Histologist at Campbell Community Hospital, working directly with Dr. Siegel, is Mrs. Vi Antaya, 1656 Ebbets Dr., Campbell.

Expert on drugs speaks March 21

Dr. Joel Fort, America's leading expert on drug abuse, will speak on "Community Responsibilities for Youthful Drug Users" at the Family Service Association of Santa Clara County annual dinner meeting in Lou's Village Mar. 21. Social hour begins at 6:30 p.m.

Major national spokesman for a sociological and public health approach to the problem of drug abuse, Dr. Fort is author of a book on drugs, "The M.A.D. (Mind-Altering Drug) World: Marijuana, Youth and Society," to be published this year by Bobbs-Merrill.

Reservations are accepted at Family Service Assoc. 295-7664.

Creator and former director of the Center for Special Problems in the San Francisco Health Department, Dr. Fort describes his work there as "the first and only program in the United States to provide a full range of treatment, education and research on all forms of drug abuse (alcohol, tobacco, emphetamines, barbiturates, narcotics, LSD, and marijuana), sexual problems (homosexuality, prostitution, abortion, etc.), crime and suicide, while working closely with hippies, the poor, minority groups, youth, and middle-class adults with these problems."

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Many of the recommendations of the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders should be implemented. All of them should be thoroughly considered. But the manner in which the report was released has raised questions here on Capitol Hill.

Some Congressmen, mostly Southerners, are asking if the group was "stacked" with liberal, pro-civil rights members. They say that Atlanta's Police Chief was the only possible exception and that he has been muted by taking orders from a liberal city administration for a number of years.

The most serious question being asked is why Bantam Books had a paperback edition in print before the official report was released. Why was an official government document copy-righted with "all rights reserved" and sold commercially? Why was the book airlifted to overseas readers even before it could be purchased through official government channels? Is it being published in Russian and translated to Chinese for shipment to Peking?

Another congressional question: If the report could be fully implemented before this summer, would it prevent rioting? Congressman George Mahon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has pointed out that federal aid to the poor will have increased 290% from 1961 to 1969! Federal outlay for health will have increased 380% in the same period; education, by 370%; and aid to urgan areas by 296%. If such dramatic increases in programs which aid the poor and the ghetto dweller have paralleled the rise of racial violence, will more money be the answer?

I have a few questions of my own. I wonder if this nation hasn't promised more than it can deliver. The civil rights movement first utilized civil disobedience as a justifiable means to a legitimate end, but then it got out of control. And violence erupted when the nation started promising more than it could deliver. As the WALL STREET JOURNAL stated, "...the first riots broke out (in 1946) in the midst of the hoopla selling the war on poverty."

The most serious question I have is whether the report was an effort to buy off racial minorities so they would not riot, loot, kill and burn during the coming summer? Or, was it intended to suddenly right a long term wrong committed solely by the white race? Either purpose is wrong. We should not have to buy the right to be safe in our streets. Nor can we solve racial problems by assigning guilt to only one race and prescribing penance.

This report has revealed an amazing similarity between our foreign policy and domestic racial policy. In foreign affairs our leaders seem ashamed, guilty and apologetic for our greatness and for what we have achieved as a nation. They mistakenly feel that this nation will be understood, loved, and appreciated if we spread billions in taxpayers dollars over the glove with little or nothing expected or required of those who receive it.

Such a foreign policy has earned us nothing but the title "world's most hated nation".

And a racial policy which is based upon a hasty and unfair determination of guilt and an avalanche of poorly planned spending as a pay-off to prevent violence has no better chance of success.

Obituaries

Services today for crash victim

Last rites were held today (Wednesday) at the Lima-Salmon-Erickson Cathedral Chapel in San Jose for Laura E. Durick, 17-year-old Campbell High School senior who was killed Saturday in the crash of a motorcycle and a car near Ben Lomond.

Driver of the motorcycle, Al Marseline, 19, of Campbell, was seriously injured. He apparently lost control of the cycle and smashed into the automobile driven by Gene Doss, 42, of San Mateo.

Miss Durick was the daughter of Mrs. Frida Hamblin of 204 More Ave., Los Gatos. She is survived by five brothers, Robert and Curt Durick and Steve, William and Charles Hamblin; and a sister, Carol Cantua of Los Gatos.

Burial was in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

ELIZABETH DUNCAN

Funeral services were held yesterday from Campbell Memorial Chapel for Mrs. Elizabeth Augusta Duncan, 97, who died in a convalescent hospital following an illness.

Mrs. Duncan was the widow of John F. Duncan, who organized the first bank in Campbell, now the Wells Fargo Bank. He also was vice president and manager of San Jose Branch of Mercantile Trust Co. until his retirement. He died in 1927.

Mrs. Duncan was a native of Michigan and came to this area in 1899. She was a member of the Campbell Chapter of OES and the Campbell Baptist Church. She lived at 75 Union Ave.

Survivors include her five children, John P. Duncan, Mrs. Mildred H. Carter, Mrs. Marion D. Parker and Mrs. Alice Newcomb, all of Campbell and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Mendel of Palo Alto and 11 grandchildren and numerous great grandchildren.

Interment was in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

JAMES A. KIDWARD

Funeral services were held Monday from Campbell Memorial Chapel for James Arthur Kidward, 28, who succumbed in a San Jose Hospital following a brief illness. Kidward, a San Jose native, was a graduate of Campbell High School. He had been employed as a machinist for the past four years. He was the son of Mrs. Loretta Kidward and the late James E. Kidward, 442 Manchester, Campbell.

He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Carole Ann Alstadt and Miss Helene Kidward; a nephew, Fred Alstadt, and his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. George Powers of San Jose. His father passed away last month.

Rev. William Gould of Campbell Methodist Church officiated at the last rites. Inurnment was in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

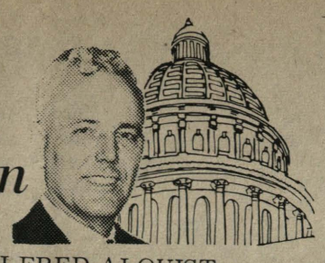
Capital Countdown



BY SENATOR ALFRED ALQUIST

In order for the Legislature to have its own independent source of fiscal and research information, the office of Legislative Analyst was created nearly three decades ago.

The Analyst, and his nationally recognized staff of budget experts, makes specific recommendations on each item of appropriation in the Governor's budget. Each proposed expenditure is reviewed, and the office recommends decreases, increases, eliminations or no changes as it believes is in accord with good government practices. Last week we received the Analyst's 1968 budget report.

Next the budget will be scrutinized by both the Senate Finance Committee and Assembly Ways and Means Committee. Both of these committees break down into subcommittees, which also go over the budget on an item-by-item basis, later making their recommendations to the full committee.

You will recall that the Governor had previously proposed a budget of $5.7 billion for 1968-69, an increase of some $880 million over last year. While the Analyst recommended cuts of almost $18 million, he offered augmentations of $11.6 million, making a net reduction of some $6.3 million.

He said the Legislature should take several items under "special review" for possible cuts, postponement or elimination.

His major augmentation was a slightly more than $2 million boost in the University of California budget. The $311 million budget proposed by the UC regents had been trimmed by the Governor to $280 million.

The Analyst recommended adding $5.1 million and reducing $3 million from the UC spending program. The largest single addition would be $2.9 million for pay increases.

And he suggested a net cut of $251,416 for the state college budget--reductions of $2.7 million and additions of $2.5 million. He marked an $11 million item for new adoptions in reading and literature for "special review" and asked us in the Legislature to determine why the books are necessary.

No recommendations on the state's medical care program were made, but the Analyst repeated a suggestion he made last year that welfare programs should be taken from the counties and turned over to the state for administration.

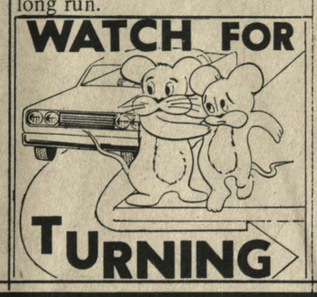
This would improve its administration, he said, and at the same time reduce costs and help provide local property tax relief.

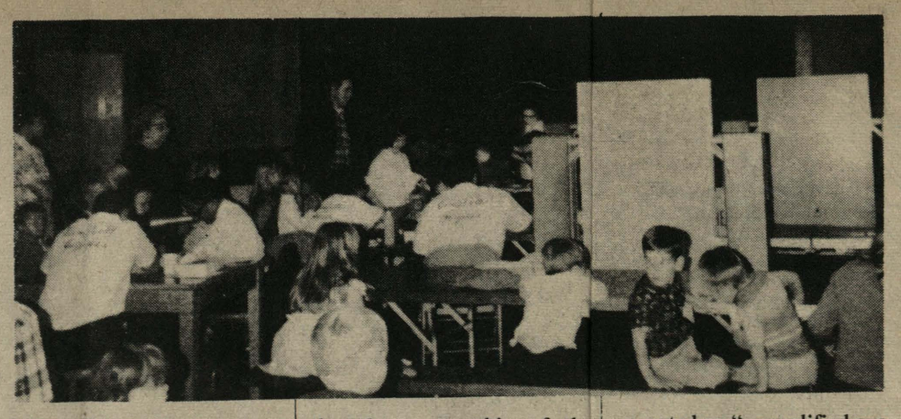
I have introduced legislation to implement this proposal.

His specific recommendations on Medi-Cal--budgeted at $336 million for fiscal 1968-69--were withheld pending a study.

He also suggested closing or redesigning three of the state's ten mental hospitals to serve limited regional needs, but did not specify which facilities would be affected. The patient population with the field of mental health, he noted, had declined from 36,207 in 1959-60 to 17,148 in the next budget year, thanks to improved treatment programs.

The Analyst, well-known for his sharp eye for budgetary "fat", also watches for false economies which may make a budget look good, but end up costing taxpayers more in the long run.





SUCCESSFUL--The recent "Vision Screening Sunday" held at Rosemary School under the sponsorship of the Campbell Jaycees and the county Optometric Society was rated an "unqualified success" by Dave Norman, Jaycee project co-chairman.

A team of three optometrists worked steadily on a Sunday from 9:30 a.m. until 4:45 p.m. giving visual examinations to more than 250 children between the ages of 3 and 6.

The above photo shows some of the activity going on at the screening session.

Parking on streets by college students concerns City Council

For the umpteenth time since West Valley College opened its "temporary" campus in Campbell almost four years ago, members of the City Council on Monday night expressed concern over the park ing problems caused by college students.

As had been pointed out many times in the past, the students persist in using residential streets for parking despite the fact that spaces remain empty in the college parking lot on Rincon.

First reading was given an ordinance setting parking time limit on newly-completed Winchester Blvd. It was pointed out that college students had been parking all day on the street.

No action has been taken by the college to alleviate the parking situation since the joint meeting of the council and college trustees in December, City Manager Bob Stephens reported.

He added, however, Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, had promised to explore the problem.

It had been suggested at the joint meeting that a small portion of the Gomes ranch might be leased for a parking lot by the college.

In another action, by a 4-1 vote, Councilman Charles Rose dissenting, the City Council approved the "old" San Tomas Aquino Road as a 60-foot width street.

Action on the matter had been requested by Crocker-Citizens National Bank, currently involved in the development of the shopping center at Hacienda and San Tomas.

Donna Hartman is bride of Edward Wagner

Gler Knowles of Campbell gave his niece, Miss Donna Hartman in marriage to Edward Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Wagner of Medford, Oregon. The wedding was solemnized at the First United Presbyterian Church in Los Gatos. Rev. Thomas S. Gee officiated.

Donna is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Hartman, formerly of Campbell, and granddaughter of Mrs. Arva M. Knowles of this city, with whom she resided for many year.

For her wedding day, the bride was attired in a floor length white satin brocade gown styled with an empire waist and full length train. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white carnations and ribbons.

Mrs. Georgia Adamson, Donna's sister, served as her matron of honor. Mrs. Diana Petereit and Misses Janet Tilden and Diann Meisinger were the bridesmaids and Melody and Linda Knowles, cousins of the bride, were the flower girls. The attendants chose gowns of turquoise satin brocade and carried white carnations trimmed with turquoise ribbon and net. The little flower girls made a quaint picture in their long lavendar satin frocks. They carried lavendar baskets of carnations. Merle Cannon was the best man.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Juanita Geary of San Jose, aunt of the bride. Two duets, "Wedding Prayer" and "One Hand, One Heart" were sung by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knowles of Kerman, Calif. Paul and Carl Knowles were the candlelighters.

Close to 150 guests attended the wedding and reception held at the church, where a four-tiered cake was cut by the happy couple. They left soon after the reception for a honeymoon at Sonora and Yosemite. They are now at home in Sunnyvale.

The new Mrs. Wagner attended local schools and graduated from Campbell High School. She attended San Jose State College and is a drama and English teacher at James Lick High School in San Jose.

The bridegroom graduated from Oregon State College at Corvallis. He is now employed at Westinghouse in Sunnyvale, as an electrical engineer.

JOHN SHEHTANIAN

Shehtanian joins Cambrian board

John H. Shehtanian, 48, of 2887 Nicholas Dr., San Jose, was appointed recently to replace Donn P. McVeigh as a member of the Cambrian School Board. McVeigh resigned in February to live in San Francisco. His term expires June 30, 1969.

Shehtanian, was born in Tulare, Calif. and attended Fresno County Schools. He transferred to San Jose State from Reedley J.C., and at both institutions starred in football. Upon graduation from San Jose State in 1950, he was drafted by the Green Bay Packers but never joined them due to a serious injury while playing for the old semi-pro San Jose Packers.

He and his wife, the former Rosalie Fuccio have two sons, John III, 11 years old and Michael, 6 years old, who attend the Fammatre School. They have been residents of the Cambrian School District since 1954.

League to launch voter registration drive

Citizens of Santa Clara Valley will be provided with many additional opportunities to register to vote prior to the April 11 deadline for the California Primary Election June 4, when the League of Women Voters of Central Santa Clara Valley launches its voter registration campaign this week.

The League urges you to consider the following factors 1) Have you recently moved? 2) Are you a new resident in the County? 3) Will you have lived in California one year by June 4? 4) Wish to change your party affiliation? 5) Will you reach the age of 21 by June 4? 6) Changed your name? 7) Failed to vote in the General Election?

If any of these questions apply to you, you must register before April 11 in order to take your place at the polls June 4. You may register at your local fire station or at any one of the following location established by the League of Women Voters as part of its public service to the community. The schedules for following weeks will be made public as they are completed.

SCHEDULE

March 15 (Friday) 6:30 p.m. - 9 p.m. Westgate Shopping Center Mall; March 16 (Saturday) 12:00 p.m.-4 p.m. Prospect & Saratoga Ave. Valley Fair Shopping Center Mall; Stevens Creek Blvd., GEMCO Store, Hillsdale Ave., San Jose.

Del Mar Dateline

by Diana Chirolas

DONS CAPTURE TITLE

For the second year in a row, Del Mar took the WVAL basketball crown, with a record of 13-3.

Del Mar also went on to wrap up the Region III basketball championship with a 63-58 triumph over Piedmont Hills in the San Jose State gym. This means that the Dons will now advance to the Central Coast Section tournament this weekend at Stanford. In this tournament, Del Mar will battle Santa Cruz.

Del Mar's annual Senior Ball was held last Friday night. Seniors and their dates danced to the music of the George Berry orchestra, and the Chosen Few at the after-ball party.

PTA NEWS

FOREST HILL

All interested parents are invited to the general meeting on March 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the cafetorium, to hear an interesting discussion on juvenile delinquency by Pedro Silva, Supervisor, Boy's Probation Dept., Santa Clara County.

Silva will also speak of the role parents can and must assume while our children are still in elementary school. Silva has wide experience in dealing with younger school children and is particularly aware of the problems faced by the Campbell district.

The fourth and fifth grade chorus will perform, and there will be election of officers for the next school year.

CAMPBELL

The regular monthly meeting of the Campbell High School PTA will be held tonight, March 13, in the school cafeteria at 7:30. There will be election of officers for the coming year.

A preview will be given of the school musical Flower Drum Song, which will be held Thursday and Friday, March 14, 15 and Thursday and Friday, March 21, 22.

CAMDEN

Camden High School PTA will feature for its March program tonight (March 13), "An Evening of Art". Approximately 30 students will demonstrate the various media available to students in the various art courses offered at Camden. These demonstrations will include: watercolor. paper mache, acrylics, ceramics and sculpture.

This is another "first" for Camden. Live artists at work!

The public is cordially invited to come and see what high school age youngsters are doing in art and artistic media.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. and will be held in the cafetorium.

COUPLES CLUB

The Tri-Fi's, a couples club of the First Methodist Church of Campbell, is sponsoring an evening of coffee and entertainment Friday night, March 15. It's called the Methodist Manor Coffee House and will feature local entertainers, snacks, and six varieties of coffee.

The public is invited to the affair, which will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church located at 1675 Winchester Blvd.

The coffee house will open at 8 o'clock and close at 11 o'clock. There will be entertainment throughout the evening. It's a family affair and the price of $2 per family may be paid at the door.

A portion of the proceeds from the evening will be used to help fund the International Christian Youth Exchange program at the church.

Bill Bunker, program chairman for the Tri-Fi's, can answer any further questions you might have. His phone number is 378-7359.

ELECTION

The Campbell Artists Guild will have election and installation of officers at their next meeting, March 18, 7:30 p.m., at the First National Bank, second floor meeting room, 308 N. Santa Cruz Ave., Los Gatos.

The meeting is open to the public.

Building booms in city

There is a "building boom" taking place in Campbell in 1968, if the building permits issued for the first two months of the year is any criteria.

Permits totaling $1,176,174 have already been taken out in 1968, according to Wally Byron, city building official. This compares to only $449, 918 issued in the first two months last year and $750, 570 in 1966. Permit valuation in February this year totaled $556,501 compared to $226, 800 in February last year.

Topping the building parade in number of permits are single-family dwellings.

In February there were eight permits issued in that category for $169,472 and 17 for the first two months of the year for a total of $384,237. (Incidentally, in 1967 for the first two months last year, there also were 17 permits issued for $320,175 with nine in February for $167,080).

But the single-family category is the only place where last year was even close. The duplex, multiple, commercial and industrial building permits issued this year exceed last year by more than $500,000.

One duplex permits for $32,454 was taken out in February and one in January for a total of $56,754. There were no such permits issued during the same two months last year.

There were no permits for multiples last year either by this time. In February this year three such permits (12 units) were taken out for $129,176. With the one in January it makes a total of $171,083 for the year thus far, compared to a big fat zero the first two months in 1967.

In 1967 for the first two months two commercial building permits were issued for $66,800 while there were four issued (all in Feb.) this year for $165,875.

Although there were no industrial building permits taken out in February this year (none last year either), three such permits for $309, 312 were issued in Jan. 1968 compared to two last year in the same period for $24,914.

Even in the swimming pool categroy shows a healthy increase. In February last year one permit was issued for $3, 100 while three issued this year for $9,400 and one in January for a total for the year of $12,800.

State income tax changes

Taxpayers who are considering averaging their income should be aware that the California Personal Income Tax Law has been amended to change the computation of base year income to conform with the new tax structure.

When computing taxable income for the four base period years, the taxpayer should add back the personal exemption and exemption for dependents to determine his taxable income.

The change in the base period income is required because of the change in the law for 1967 providing for tax credits rather than exemptions, explained Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Any individual seeking additional information or assistance with any State tax matter can call or visit the nearest office of the Franchise Tax Board, Huff said.

PACK 309

The next meeting of Pack 309 will be held on Thursday, March 28 at 7:30 p.m. in Bennett Hall in the rear of the Campbell Congregational Church. A film and a talk on wild life conservation will be given by a ranger from Vasona Park. All Cub Scouts and their parents from Pack 309 are invited to attend. The Pack has set April 27 as the date of their next paper drive.

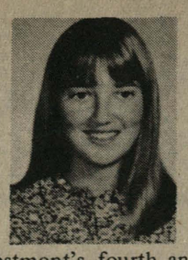
VISITS CAMPBELL HIGH--Dr. Bert O. Thomas (center) professor of zoology at Colorado State College, shows an interesting fish specimen to Campbell High School students Kathy Neece and Dennis Merrill. Dr. Thomas spoke to an assembly of Campbell students and also in small discussion groups to promote student interest in biology and science concepts.



Westmont Whirl

By Laura Vierra

Westmont's fourth annual Pop's Concert was held Friday and Saturday nights. Directed by Mr. Kenyon, both nights were a big success. Featured numbers were performed by the Flag-girls and the Satin Dolls.

This Friday is the annual "Sadie Hawkins" dance where the girls ask that "special" guy of their choice, Girls, if you haven't asked that guy ask him now before someone else does!!

SPORTS

Saturday our Varsity Baseball team played Logan High School at Westmont. Westmont defeated Logan with a score of 7-0.

Friday our Frosh-Soph Varsity and B track teams defeated Blackford by a wide margin.

Tonight is the Sport's Banquet for the boys in Wrestling and Basketball. The program will begin at 7 and each sport will show movies of their games during the season. Dessert will be served and awards and blocks will be given. Tickets are only 50 cents. All friends and relatives of the athletes are invited to attend.

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard

"Midnight in Blue" was the theme for the Senior Ball last Friday night at the La Rinconada Golf Club house. The seniors danced to the "Townsmen" until midnight. The long awaited night was thoroughly enjoyed by 120 couples.

The Buc Band attended the dedication of the Blue Star Memorial Highway at Hamilton Ave. last Friday morning. The Campbell Garden Club dedicated the young eucalyptus trees in the median strip and a stone marker to all servicemen everywhere. The Buc Band led by Mr. William Perkins played the appropriate patriotic music to add to the atmosphere of the dedication. There was a large crowd attending.

Campbell's first swimming meet was held last Friday afternoon with Branham in the Bruin's pool. Because of rain the first track meet of the season was cancelled. It was postponed until Tuesday on the Buc's track. Results of both meets will be announced.

The school musical, "Flower Drum Song" will go on schedule this Friday and Saturday night in the auditorium. The actors and actresses have been rehearsing steadily this past month under the direction of Mr. John Hall. The music will be directed by Mr. Larry McCommas. Lead male dancer Paul Tokunaga suffered a broken leg while on a motorcycle last week and won't be able to perform but his understudy Mark Ammerman has been working extra hard and will be ready this Friday. Admission is $1.75 for adults and $1.50 for children and student body card holders.

A meeting for all students attending the new high school, Prospect, next year was held last Monday. The 357 Bucs enthusiastically participated in the meeting and gave suggestions for school colors and mascot. It looks as if Prospect will be full of spirit next year.

Elevators transport more passengers than any other public conveyance and are the safest mode of transportation

Camden Capers

By Caren Daniels

Strenuous hours and long, hard work have gone into the preparation of the Class of '68's Senior Ball, to be held this Friday evening from 9 to 12 p.m. The theme, "Night on the Acropolis", has been carried out by the use of columns, pictures and various other decorations to transform La Rinconada into the Greek mood. Johnny Vaughn and his orchestra will be providing the music, as formally-attired couples dance through the night.

After a quick change in apparel, many seniors and their dates will head for Saratoga Lanes bowling alley, the sight of the After-Ball Party. Sponsored by the parents of these students, bowling, pool, food and dancing to the "Stained Glass" will be provided from 1 - 5 a.m. Costing $6 per person, tickets are still available from Don Anderson. A breakfast will also be served.

Junior journalism students are crying "Roll the press" as their second newspaper edition of the year is being printed. To be distributed Friday, March 15, periods three and five's reporters have rushed anxiously to meet the deadlines. Gail Newton is managing editor for the period three class, with Joanne Witek as her assistant. Fifth period is headed by Managing Editor Sally Hash, and Assistant Linda MacMillan. The purpose of the junior newspaper is to give future Cougars' Tales reporters practice in fundamentals such as creative writing, page layout, copyreading and news writing.

Sophomore science students had a break from their normal routines yesterday as they journeyed to the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds to participate in the Career Guidance Center. An annual project, students departed Tuesday morning and returned by lunch time. They visited booths and participated in programs, attempting to investigate fields that gave students interest. Vocational tests were taken earlier in the year to locate where interests lay, according to Mr. Runcie, Sophomore science department head.

The KLIV Prunes made it 16 wins and one loss as they defeated Camden's faculty 84-71 last Thursday evening. Leading most of the fast-moving game, the Prunes were given a few moments of worry as the men's faculty tied up the score, and briefly took the lead, mid-way through the third quarter. In the end, the Prunes pulled the victory before a full-capacity crowd. Through this game, Camden will be able to sponsor an AFS student abroad.

Del Mar Sports

by Ed Gibson

Del Mar's basketball squad won its first Region III game in history last Friday clipping Piedmont Hills 63-58 in a toughly-fought contest.

Although sub Bruce Posey (replacing Hugh McCain) did not have a high point total, it was he that broke a 47-47 tie in the final period to lead the Dons to victory.

Loren Toews was the high point man for the Dons with 20, followed by Don Transeth 16, Bob Lee 10, Todd Martin 9, Posey 7 and Hugh McCain 1.

Del Mar's swimming team bombed Leigh 58-13 last Friday in the first league meet of the season. All-Americans Dave Shilling and Glen Schank figured heavily in the scoring.

After downing Leland 7-4, the Dons' baseball team was edged by Campbell 4-3 in preseason play.

Both Del Mar's intended track meet with Leigh and its tennis match with Santa Cruz were rained out.

Del Mar's basketball fate will be decided this Thursday and Friday nights with the continuation of PBT competition. Also on the calendar are baseball and tennis with Leigh on Thursday; track and swimming with Campbell Friday; baseball and tennis with Soquel, also on Friday; golf with Leigh next Monday; and baseball and tennis with Saratoga next Tuesday.

Blackford has car inspection

Blackford High School was one of the 'lucky' sixteen Santa Clara County schools to have their cars inspected by the San Jose Police Department recently.

As students approached the parking lot gates to leave school Thursday, Feb. 29, they were met by approximately 15 uniformed officers.

They stopped each car and checked tail lights, head lights, brake lights, horn, turn signals, windshield wipers, car registration, and the individuals driver's license.

According to several authorities here at Blackford, before leaving, the policemen commented that, "Blackford has one of the most cooperative and congenial student bodies that we have come across in quite some time; they are to be congratulated."

DUE TO CIRCUMSTANCES BEYOND OUR CONTROL by Fred Friendly

"Because television can make so much money doing its worst, it often cannot afford to do its best."

This paradox summarizes the dilemma of commercial television today, and is the theme of this "occupational memoir" of Fred Friendly's sixteen years at the Columbia Broadcasting System.

THE RAILROAD THAT LIGHTED SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA by Hank Johnson

One of the most fabulous and certainly the crookedest railroad ever built was the San Joaquin and Eastern, a doughty little short line that snaked its way into the High Sierra northeasterly from Fresno, California. It was built in 157 days in 1912 by Henry Huntington to furnish transportation for the construction of Big Creek, the largest hydroelectric project in the world at the time.
